

THE MEETING HOUSE GALLERY

Exploring diversity and celebrating unity through the Arts
Oakland Mills Interfaith Center
5885 Robert Oliver Place • Columbia, MD 21045
410-730-4090 • www.themeetinghouse.org/gallery.htm

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

The Meeting House Gallery is a new gallery located in the Oakland Mills Interfaith Center in Columbia, Maryland. The Oakland Mills Interfaith Center is used by various congregations and community groups for religious services, classes, nursery school, meetings, theater performances, weddings, receptions, and private parties. Between congregational services, meetings and other events over 3,000 people visit the Meeting House Gallery on a weekly basis.

Artists for each exhibit will be selected by jury or by special invitation. Artists working in all media and styles which can be hung are encouraged to apply. The board of the Oakland Mills Interfaith Center has instructed The Meeting House Gallery that images of the nude human body, images that are political in nature, as well as religious images and religious symbols are not acceptable for exhibition in this space at this time.

Congregations currently affiliated with the Oakland Mills Interfaith Centers are:

- Bet Aviv (Reform-Jewish)
- Columbia Baptist Fellowship (Southern Baptist Convention)
- Columbia Jewish Congregation (Reconstructionist)
- Columbia United Christian Church (Church of the Brethren, Disciples of Christ, & United Church of Christ)
- St. John the Evangelist Roman Catholic Church

THE MEETING HOUSE GALLERY HOURS
8:00am - 9:00pm	Daily
The Gallery is closed on all observed Federal holidays.
Please note, religious services are held during the weekend (Friday - Sunday) and on holy days.

Submissions:

- Read all the exhibit rules stated in The Meeting House Gallery application.
- Complete the application and include all the materials specified in Item 3.
- E-mail (preferred method) or mail application materials to: gallery@themeetinghouse.org

The Meeting House Gallery
Oakland Mills Interfaith Center
5885 Robert Oliver Place
Columbia, MD 21045